

WHEAT IS LOOKING FINE
SAYS COMMISSIONER OWEN

Shortage of Farm Labor Not Allowed to Interfere with Cultivation of Crops.

Assistant Commissioner J. J. Owen returned yesterday from Prince Edward County, and reports wheat looking unusually fine, with prospects of a splendid yield. The shortage of farm labor has not been allowed to interfere seriously with the cultivation of the fields, the farmers' wives helping their husbands in the fields in many instances. Farm machinery, where practicable, is re-enforcing the shortage of farm labor this year in this county, as well as in other sections throughout the State.

Mr. Owen found that the farmers have made rapid progress preparing their land for tobacco, but there has been no season for transplanting, and the planting of crops for market, the plants get too large before the advertisements received up to 10 P.M.
